

Shape the Future of Operations Management

APICS is excited to introduce a new membership for academicians. Be a part of the APICS community with academicians from around the world.

When you join APICS you are connecting with more than 42,000 professionals in 20,000 industries worldwide. APICS is an internationally recognized association with members who are academicians, practitioners, instructors, students, and experts in all areas of operations management, from inventory, production, materials management, supply chain, purchasing, and logistics, in manufacturing and service industries.

As an academic professional member, you are an important link between the academic community and the profession. Academic professional members contribute to the expansion of the APICS body of knowledge; strengthen education, training, and resources in operations management; and provide guidance to students entering the workforce.

Benefits of Academic Professional Membership

- Recognition. Showcase your experience and expertise by contributing to the operations management body of knowledge through research, published articles, presenting, and mentoring.
- Information. Gain access to publications and resources to keep you current on practical applications of developing topics.
- Connection. Network with more than 42,000 industry professionals worldwide.
- Legacy. Make a difference in the professional growth of students entering the workforce.

We invite you to take part in shaping the future of operations management.

Eligibility for APICS Academic Professional Membership

To be eligible for academic professional membership, individuals must be employed full-time by one or more accredited academic institutions in the following capacity:

- Professor
- Researcher
- Lecturer/Instructor
- Assistant/associate professor
- Dean
- Equivalent international title

Adjunct professors or consulting instructors are not eligible for academic membership.

For only $25 annually, along with chapter dues, academic professional membership provides access to these valuable resources and opportunities:

- Advance notice of research opportunities through the APICS E&R Foundation
- Subscriptions to APICS magazine and the Production and Inventory Management Journal
- Full access to APICS Web site
- Full voting privileges
- Chapter membership
- Eligible to hold office on chapter and association boards
- Membership in APICS Learning Communities
- Savings on APICS educational events and materials

Influence the profession and the careers of students. Become an APICS academic professional member today!
